

First paragraph on page one.

Second page text here.
Another line on page two.

1 A section

Text after the section that is long enough to wrap onto several lines, so the lines around it produce many SyncTeX boxes. It goes on for a while longer still, and then some more, until it has wrapped at least three or four times across the width of the page.